DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Figure 1 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

2. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are rejected because claim 1 in lines 4-6 of the claim recites; "...manifold adapted to convey the fluidized bed therethrough ..." The above limitation is inconsistent with applicants' disclosure. The specification on page 5, lines 5-6, discloses a manifold which is "adapted for conveying a bed fluidizing fluid there through..." Similarly, on page 6, lines 1-4 of the specification, the manifold is described as being "...adapted for conveying a fluid there through for fluidizing a fluidized bed..."

5. Claims 7-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are rejected because claim 7 in lines 4-6 of the claim recites, "...manifold adapted to convey the bed fluidized bed therethrough..." Here, the wording is unclear. Furthermore, it appears that applicants are drawing to a similar limitation as pointed out in claim 1 above. The limitation is inconsistent with the disclosed specification for same reason as pointed out above.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 1-9 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

The above claims would be allowable because the prior art fails to disclose or render obvious an apparatus for treating RPET comprising a manifold having a midline, wherein the manifold comprise a plurality of apertures positioned below the midline, and wherein a plurality of concave surface features are provided on a position above the midline of the manifold.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Maryamchik et al. (US 6,868,795) discloses a bubble cap assembly with outlet for delivering a fluidizing medium to a bed of granulated material. Davis (US 4,226,830) discloses a fluidized bed reactor with distributing pipes to convey a fluidizing fluid there through.
